Morrow and Jackson rule Prom

by Lisa Barchet

Well, after weeks and weeks of preparation, prom is all over. Its now time to catch up on sleep, return tuxes and put the long dresses in the back of the closet. I'm sure everyone will agree that the evening was a huge success. Everyone had a great time dancing to the music of La Grande, a band from Terre Haute. As for the decoration and the refreshments, I think they were enjoyed also, considering both had disappeared by the end of the evening. The highlight of the prom was the coronation. Missy Morrow and Charles Merlin Jackson were crowned queen and king. Jana Simpson and Terry Wilson were honored by being named Maid-of-honor and prince of the occasion.

Arion awards presented

Three Reitz seniors were honored by Downtown Kiwanis Club at the recent Arion Awards assembly.

The Arion Awards, recognizing high achievement in the field of music, were presented to Duane Wells, HR IMC-1, for vocal music; Kara Ernsperger, HR 002, for orchestra; and Mark Knapp, HR 210, for band.

The award is based on the legend of a 7th-8th century B.

The award is based on the legend of a 7th-8th century B.C. Greek musician named Arion of Methymna, a lyric poet who was renowned for his great musical expertise. The award is presented to individuals who possess the same high standards in music, as well as who are chosen by their peers as excelling in service, leadership and personality.

Duane, Kara and Mark were also seated at a luncheon for the Arion Award recipients from the area.

Leaders of Tomorrow honored at banquet

by Mike Bevers

Nine seniors from Reitz were recently selected for the annual "Community Leaders of Tomorrow" banquet held at the Florida Room in the Executive Inn on Monday evening, May 11. The event was sponsored by the Metropolitan Evansville, Princeton, Mount Vernon, Warrick County and Henderson Chambers of Commerce.

Seniors include: Gina Hobbard, Marie Boone, Glenn Deig, Todd Durell, Dwayne Estes, Dirk Hubregs, Julie Schenk, Greg Talley, and Ann

Determined to follow the motto "The night is still young" many dashed home for a quick change of clothes and then to North Park Cinemas for "Hardly Working" or "Caveman." Both movies proved to be quite humorous and entertaining. After the movies were over, everyone went their own ways. They went everywhere from various parties to "home to go to sleep."

Even though Sunday was Mother's Day, mom had to wait. Most people used the day for catching up on sleep, putting the flowers in storage, and filling in the memory book.

I'm sure we'll never forget the terrific memories of the junior-senior prom of 1981, "The Best of Times."

Four students to attend institute

Four Reitz students were recently awarded a one week trip to Indiana University for a Summer Philosophy Institute. Sophomores, Beth Cook and Gina Cundiff will be traveling with juniors, B.J. Thomas and Cheryl Hipp to the institute during the week of June 14 through June 20.

During the weeks stay, the students will be exposed to the writings and ideas of great philosophers. They will be encouraged to arouse an interest in ideas as well as how to develop their ideas. In addition to learning experiences, they will have the opportunity to meet students from all over Indiana, and also acquire the experience of being on a college campus with actual dormitory living.

The students were selected from submitted applications. A teacher's recommendation was required along with a transcript of the student's grades. Only 28 students from the state were selected. These Reitz students were the only ones selected from the Evansville area.

These were selected by the counselors, class sponsors and administrative staff to represent Reitz. These seniors were selected on many factors such as demonstration of leadership, conduct, adaptability, personality, scholarship, integrity, sociability and show promise of becoming outstanding community citizens.

At the banquet, Reitz' Ann Theis opened up the evening event with an invocation. Then the one hundred students and their parents from throughout the tri-state were treated to a Salisbury steak dinner. Fol-

Book sale termed success

by Erik Olson

Reitz was again making it's mark in the first category with a very successful book sale. Books on the Ohio was held May 4-8 in the IMC. According to Mrs. Samples the book sale was a real success. The IMC sold $1,000 worth of books and the profit made will be used to buy paperbacks for the IMC.

The sale was well attended and Mrs. Samples commented that many students confided in her that they would like to have another. There were a dozen different categories including humor, science fiction, cookbooks, mysteries, study aides and many more.

Wind ensemble to perform

by Michelle Oglesby

The Reitz Wind Ensemble has been invited to perform at the 29th Annual Convention of the American School Band Directors' Association in Indianapolis, Indiana, on June 16, 1981. Such an invitation is a great honor for the group, because only the best bands in the state are selected, and because the convention will be attended by many famous composers and band directors.

The Wind Ensemble is scheduled to play at 1:30 p.m. in the East-Center Ballroom of the Indianapolis Hilton Hotel. It will perform selections it used at the recent District Contest in Terre Haute, as well as several other entertaining numbers, including a Sousa March.

These Reitz musicians were chosen on the basis of the fine record of Reitz instrumental groups and individuals in organizational contests, solo and ensemble contests, All-City, etc. This is the first time in Evansville's history that a band has been invited to perform at such a convention.

Pep Club members announced

by Sandy Brown

The 1981-82 Pep Club members have been chosen. These students will be busy keeping up the school spirits.

The new members consist of: Kim Baker, Sandy Brown, Kathy Bullock, Mary DeVoy, Laura Daugherty, Cheryl Garrison, Valerie Guest, Theresa Gilley, Linda Hartman, Mary Hartman, Cathy Helfert, Chris Hertel, Kathy Hicks, Lisa Jennings, Karen Koch, Tammy Jessee, Jenny Jones, Susan Koewler, Jodie Lupfer, Beth Minton, Julie Maye, lowing that, the Mount Vernon High School Choir presented a program. The highlight of the event was the guest speaker. Sam Ball (who played for the 1971 Superbowl champions Baltimore Colts) gave a speech on the "American Dream." Afterward, all those honored received citations. Marie Boone commented that she really had a nice time.

Mr. Higgs congratulated all nine of the seniors selected for this honor. "I think it is a very deserving recognition for these fine students."

Students swarmed to the IMC for the first of what the librarians hope will be an annual book sale.

New Gridiron Gals named

by Mark Rea

For the past few football seasons Reitz has used girls to exchange footballs during the games. These young ladies were called Ball Girls and had the primary task of supplying balls for the game.

Mr. Ashworth has organized a program by which more than just a few girls can participate.

The new program is called the Gridiron Gals.

Gridiron Gals will have the primary tasks of supplying the footballs, keeping stats, helping the coaches, and most importantly running donuts and coffee to the people in the press box.

Next Years Gals are:

The boards will hang on the wall at the gym entrance by the teachers parking lot.

In other business at their recent meetings the mat maids elected 1981-82 officers. Angie Schutte will be president, and she hopes to have a candy and button sale, a car wash this summer, and have the mat maids take stats at the meets along with selling the traditional candy.

Tami Peerman

It's really hard to say good-bye knowing how things will be hanging, yet we all must say it.

Good-bye to the school that has taught us so much (not always from the books). We will always remember the wall competitions, door competitions, and most of all the Pep Assemblies. If only these walls could speak.

Good-bye to the teachers an other staff members who have been so much a part of our lives. To the science teachers who have informed us of the importance of osmosis. To the math teachers who taught us ho to slice a pie in eight perfectly equal pieces. To the history teachers who told us all about the wars and peace of the world. (Mr. Bahn taught a few of us that it can be dangerous to write what you think.) To the foreign language teachers who taught us the basics of foreign diplomacy. Last but not least, the English teachers.

The English teachers seem to have meant the most to me. My memories: Mr. Chapman freshman grammer-strawberry lifesavers and Elvis. (A preposition is a place a rat can run.)

Mrs. Buckingham-giving me confidence as a freshman by putting me in the greatest play ever done at Reitz, "Goodbye, My Fancy."

Mrs. Tuggle-she taught me to love books and to giggle.

Mrs. Norrick-to write a term paper and run errands.

Mr. Brumley-to speak in front of other people with confidence.

Most important, Mr. Jack Williams. He is defenately the most patient, understanding, and helpful teacher I've ever met. Anyone who has ever had a class with him would have to agree. To know "Journalism Jack" is to know a super guy.

Finally we must all say good-bye to our friends. For some of us next year will be the first year apart since Kindergarden. For others it will be the end of four years of friendships. Of course we all say we'll keep in touch, and some may succeed, but most probably will not.

The end of high school can be looked upon as a sad occassion, or as a new beginning. I choose the new beginning. I'd like to say good-bye to everyone, especially Sheryl, Marie, Erik, John W., Charlie, Donna M., Mike B., the gang from Cool & Easy, and my super great homeroom teacher, Mr. Orth. Good-bye, take care, and have a happy life.

Tami

At Ease

with Marie Boone

Throughout our lives we will meet people who will leave us with impressions that will change our lives. The people we meet in our High School years are more influential than at any other time in our lives. During my ytears at Reitz, there have been many people who have encouraged me to become the best I possibly could be. I am very grateful to these people, and I would like to take this time to thank them. To Ms. McFarland and Ms. Owens for their guidance and friendship. Thank You to Mrs. Tuggle for attempting to teach me how to write. Unfortunately for you She failed. Mrs. Norrick for attempting to teach me proper English, and Mrs. Kirkman for ruining everything she taught me. For sending me in the right directions I thank Mrs. Miller. Of course there are many other people who have been very helpful to me in the last four years, but obviously there isn't enough space to name them. However there is space in my heart and I do appreciate all they have done for me.

There are also other people who hold a very special place in my memory. They are very special people, they are my friends. At least they have been very good phonies. If not. I'm very grateful to Tami and Julie for keeping me informed on the latest gossip. Clarissa and Marsella for all those terrific "walks". Thank you Shawn for your compliments, Laverne for keeping me in touch with the lord, Patricia for being my sports informant, Sherry for being simply what you are...a great friend, and Endia for being a little bit nicer than Evelyn. Thank you Tony for the Blue cotton candy, Royce for being so nice, and Deborah for deserting me in Homeroom...although I now forgive you.

There are several people who have lived my days, and who I will certainly miss in the following years. My little brother Robert for never doing you chores I love you. to Gretchen, Maudie, Scotty, Robert, Nuckey, Felita, Regina, Valaida, Acacia, Maria, Erik, Lisa, Darlene, The Cheatern Sisters, Tina, Elmer Cato, Gina, Cheryl, Terrie, Jamesetta, Darlene and Earlene Harris, Mark Rea, Susie, Laurie, Julie, Pat, and everybody else that I've met in my life.

There is one person I would especailly like to recognize, someone who is very special to me and who has encouraged me, sometimes more than I appreciate, someone who has been by my side through thick and thin, someone who means more to me than anything. I would like to thank my mom for being the best mother any person could ever wish for. Thanks Mom, now can I have some Toll House Cookies?

Senior Class Reunion - 1986

Time has passed and it is time for the reunion of the class of 1981. As we venture back to the old home town to meet with long lost friends, we realize for the first time how we have all went our separate ways.

The scene for the meeting is the Reitz High School Cafeteria. This will be the first time they have stepped into the cafeteria since graduation.

The first to show up is Tammy Pillow, now a topless dancer at the Vixen Lounge. With her is her fifth husband Erik Olson who is the world famous Gynecologist. Coming in next is Mark Smith, floral genius, who bought out Zeidler's at the age of 19. Paul Grammer, his faithful friend goes with him everywhere. (If it hadn't been for Paul, Mark's success would have been impossible. You see, Paul is the original Flower Child!)

Paul turns to greet Chuck Young who's popularity as Playgirls centerfold is over whelming. With Chuck is his agent Louie Lehmann. Blessing everyone with his presence (and then some) is

Charlie Jackson the monk. Charlie is sworn to poverty and celibacy, thereby not affected by the lude advances of Julie Schenk, international vamp.

Debbie Albin prances into the room, she flashes her expensive jewelry, which she bought with the money from her incredible laugh. CBA recorded her laugh and now uses it on their comedy shows. With her is Jane Schaefer. (With Jane is 6 of her 13 children.) Jane's husband, Scott Hurt keeps control of the other 7 kids by chaining their ankles together. Along comes Saint Jerry of Huff to set those children free. St. Jerry waves his magic wand over the children and their chains disappear. (He's still got it!)

Next to the reunion comes the mad computer scientist, Amy Qualis. She's still wearing her space cadet shirt-what a lovely odor! With her is Greg Myers, tobacco chewing fiend. Greg got started chewing when he was on the baseball team. He turns and spits his chew, but it lands on the foot of Brent Norman.

Brent smiles and wiggles his toes in the brown mess.

He's barefooted because it was part of his sex pistol costume. Also in their costume is Vicky Schneider who flew all the way in from Colorado, where she is a member of the Dallas Cowgirl Cheerleaders.

Everyone stares at the entrance way, hoping to find out what all the commotion was about. There at the door stood Pam Vincent, the class wino. Pam took to drinking after she failed college. She hasn't held down a job in over three years. The last one she had was washing out the pens at the dog pound.

Speaking of dogs, Herbie Weedman could not attend the reunion. He was lost in the pile of yearbooks that were in the Journalism room and has never been found.

Gary Garibay was in attendance, decked out in his new trench coat. Gary has been very prosperous as the town flasher. With him is Alan Goebel, now a janitor at Reitz.

Tonja Pitzer, now Patton rides into the room on horseback. Tonja went into the military, but now uses her talents as a sharp-shooter at Rodeos and side shows.

Three women faint and the crowd looks around to see what affected them so suddenly. Standing in the doorway is John Wilson, now a male model for the Sears and Robuck catalog. (After all, John Davidson got his start that way.) Next to enter is the old group from Cool and Easy.

We see Katinka Lindholm (former Swedish exchange student) who went home and joined the band Abba. She is now a millionaire and drives a hot-pink Rolls Royce. Also along we find Terrie Stonecipher who is now the President of the Ladies Auxiliary of the Mechanics Union and Chairman of the Board of the local Opera Society. Next we find Laurie Barning. Her and her husband have formed a Production Company which makes comedy movies. Their latest film is a remake of a famous old one-man comedy starring her husband Mark Hertel. It should be a smash hit. Joe Stauber is with them. He's jealous of Marks stardom. Being an original Doodle he always thought he was funniest.

A group of popular girls, Carole Scheller, Carol Winger, Carolyn Schweizer, and Bobbie Sprinkle all come together. After high school, they invested in clones and now make their own men.

The world famous rabbit breeder and Sports Field editor Scott Ashworth shows his face. With him is faithful friend Max Frankenberger. (Max still can't talk.)

Tami Peerman, once editor of the Mirror, is now a journalistic failure. She hasn't been able to write anything decent since The last issue of the Mirror.

Where is Donna Mesker? She's still downstairs in the Journalism room typesetting stories and Mr. Williams goes in every two weeks to dust her off.

Also missing is Glen Stover the embezzler. He had to move to Europe to avoid being arrested for embezzling 20 million dollars from FBLA.

Sheryl Parker, long time Space Cadet, is the next volunteer for the last Mission to the Moon. She should be right at home.

And so goes the class of 1981's reunion.

Senior recalls past four 4 years

by Terrie Stonecipher

The past four years have been very exciting for the class of '81. Most of us as strangers, but are leaving as friends.

Everyone remembers the 1978 State runner-up football team. As freshmen we started out with a good year. Our class sponsors Mr. Orth and Mrs. Campbell had many wonderful things planned for us and with good athletes, intelligent students and alot of crazies made this one of the greatest classes ever to come off the hill.

As we look back we can see all of the great times that we've had. Remember the first pep assembly and the first opportunity we had to see the Hilltoppers perform.

The school has taken many changes and many new faces have appeared on the faculty, including the new Principal, Mr. Higgs. I'm sure you all remember Driver's Education. We were one of the first classes to use the driving range. I don't know how many cones I killed, as Mr. Henry would say.

Then came our licenses and using the car for the first time. Your Mom saying "don't go to the East side, if it rains pull over, don't drive too fast, and be home at 10:00." What did everyone do? Just the opposite. We may have gotten into trouble, but it was all worth it.

About that time came the big T.P.ing craze. Everyone was doing it to everyone else. It didn't really matter what kind of car or truck you drove, they were all get away vehicles.

I don't know how it happened so quickly, but we were finally Juniors. Written Expression and U. S. History were just a couple of the many classes we had to choose from. By now everyone had made friends that would be beside them for the rest of their school days and perhaps the rest of their lives.

Now for "The Best Of Times"- the Senior year. Government and Economics- how nice it felt to be taking the only classes we needed to graduate. What a fantastic senior year we had. The Space Cadets, Grand Togas, Cool and Easy, the Rim Wreckers, The Howell Dukes, and maybe even the Warhawks have made the year fun.

The girls basketball team won the State Championship, (the biggest party ever was held afterwards), we accomplished the greatest Skip Day ever and the senior Trip was a blast. We couldn't have had a better year.

Now the Class of '81 will be going their separate ways- to college, jobs, and married life. Although I couldn't wait for it to happen, I hate to see it end. We are now adults and we have reached what we have strived for the past twelve years. Good Luck to everyone and See Ya All at the five year reunion.

Commencement speakers chosen

The close of another class era is fast approaching. In less than seven days the class of '81 will close the books on Hgh School life forever. To many it is a blessing but to some it means leaving many fond memories behind.

approximately 400 seniors will take part in the traditional commencement exercises to be held on Wednesday June 3rd at 6:30 p.m. The Ceremony will take place in the Reitz Bowl unless rain forces it indoors, then it will be held in the big gym. This year's theme is "Take Up the Gauntlet" which means take up the challenge.

Thiry junior flower girls in long pastel dresses will open the procession into the Bowl. During the ceremony seven graduating seniors will be featured as speakers. Kristy Brown will lead the invocation. Felita Marshall will give the Benediction while Ann Theis leads the singing. Royce Humphries, Todd Durrell, Acacia Hughes, and Julie Schenk will speak on the responsibility of caring for mankind and the need to seek honesty, citizenship, and proficiency.

As the class of 1981 leaves the new senior class of '82 is eagerly awaiting their turn to be tops on the hill. From the Class of '82 to the Class of 1981 we wish you the absolute best in everything you take on and remember:
You had pep;
You had fun;
But, more important,
You will always be The Class of 1981.

The Class of '81 is the best graduating class in the history of Reitz High School. The Seniors have upheld tradition by equalling and or surpassing the goals set by the Class of 1980. As president of the Class of 1981 I would like to inform this year's Juniors of the importance of their final year. It is truly one of the best times of your lives. Cherish every moment as if it is yor last. It will never come again. I wish you the best of luck in the coming year. You have chosen an excellent person to lead you next year. Be sure he lives up to your expectations. He is there to serve you.

To the Class of 1982-Good luck.

To the Class of 1981-Thank you and God Be with you.
Don Owen, Pres. Class of 1981
